Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Godin et al.

Godin discloses the use of a musical instrument case comprising a top portion for covering the headstock and tuning keys of the instrument; a body portion for covering the strings and neck of the instrument with one or more detachable straps to secure the body portion around the headstock; and an end portion for attaching the cover to the body of the instrument. The detachable straps as disclosed by Godin are connected at one free end of the top portion of the cover and connected at another end to a free edge of the end portion of the cover (see figure 2). Godin further discloses the use of a pocket (see figure 3) within the cover and a fabric material(18).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2837

4. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Godin in view of Armstrong.

Godin does not disclose the use of a clear plastic cover.

Armstrong discloses the use of a clear plastic cover for a musical instrument (column 2, lines 1-5).

It would have been obvious to not of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the case as disclosed by Godin with the material as disclosed by Armstrong in order to provide a durable case for musical instruments.
